

GEN. MARSHALL, HOPKINS REPORTED IN LONDON

FDR, NELSON DISAGREE ON WAR BONUSES

Roosevelt Utterly Opposes Paying Of Extra Cash In War Period

NELSON ADVOCATES "INCENTIVE PAY"

Controversy, However, Appears To Be Nearing Solution

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 8.—President Roosevelt and his war production, Donald M. Nelson, differed sharply today on the wisdom of wartime cash bonuses for workers who set a fast pace in vital arms industries.

Nevertheless, there were numerous signs that the hotly debated controversy over wages and hours might be edging nearer a solution, despite the continuing surface turmoil.

Mr. Roosevelt, intimating that there might be an announcement on the wage question soon, told his press conference yesterday that he was utterly opposed to the war-time bonus plan because men in such a national emergency ought to produce all they could. He added he also disapproved piece-work bonuses in peace time.

Advocates Merit Awards Nelson, who endorsed the bonus or "incentive pay" plan during an appearance before a senate committee on March 20, suggested that plans and employees be given merit awards for outstanding work. He said such a system might eliminate labor "slow downs". Nelson acknowledged, however, that it could be applied only in certain major war industries.

As the capital waited for some clarification on the disagreement, William H. Clegg, a new tone of urgency and warned that the public was no longer in any mood to "tolerate indecision and delay—by management, by labor or government" in prosecuting the war program.

Batt. head of the WPB's raw materials division, asserted in a speech last night at Camden, N. J., that the nation at the moment was in a "bitter, losing fight", and that only hard work could wrest the initiative of the offense from the foe and put him on the defensive.

Against Double Time At his press conference yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt reiterated orally that he thought double time for Sunday and holidays should be discontinued. The chief executive, however, did not categorically reaffirm his previous opposition to eliminating time and half pay for work beyond 40 hours.

On the subject of hours, Mr. Roosevelt indicated that he did not think that war workers should work more than 48 hours a week. He said studies in Europe during and since the World war had shown that the average person turned out more goods working 48 hours than by working 60 hours a week.

He wished people would get that into their heads, he emphasized, adding he believed it was Henry Ford who said that work over 48 hours, or was it 44, did not count as an addition to production.

33 CONVICTED IN CEMETERY SALES

Salem Man Named In Indictments Returned By Federal Jury

(By Associated Press) COLUMBUS, April 8.—Thirty-three men convicted of mail fraud and conspiracy in the sale of lots in three central Ohio cemeteries will be sentenced Friday (9:30 a. m.) by U. S. Judge Robert R. Nevins of Dayton.

A federal court jury which heard 36 months of testimony against 35 officers and salesmen for Forest Glen, Inc., Marion firm which promoted the lot sales, acquitted only two defendants in a verdict returned at 9:20 o'clock last night after a week's deliberation.

Assistant District Attorney Ray J. O'Donnell said the penalty for using the mails to defraud is not more than ten years in prison and $10,000 fine, and for conspiracy not more than two years and $10,000 fine.

Convicted of 9 Counts Robert Marshall, former vice president and general manager of Forest Glen, and J. W. Jacoby, former president and counsel, both of Marion, were convicted of nine counts of using the mails to defraud and one of conspiracy, as were 10 salesmen. The others were convicted of only one count, use of the mails.

Marshall was not present when the verdict was read. His attorney, Edwin Judy of Columbus, said he was ill.

The jury freed Gus F. Bieher of Bucyrus, a salesman, and Thomas H. Malloy of Marion, auditor for the agency which sold burial plots in Forest Glen cemetery at Marion, of all charges.

BOND BALLOT LOOMING ON CITY PROJECT

Proposed For Construction Of Fire And Police Quarters

VOTE MAY BE ASKED AT FALL ELECTION

City Hall Issue Is Not Forgotten, Council Committee Says

The public may be asked to vote on a bond issue at the November general election to finance construction of new quarters for the fire and police departments, it was indicated at city council's regular meeting last night by Councilman-at-Large Harry Vincent.

Vincent is chairman of the special committee which has had the problem under consideration ever since the state ordered the abandonment of the century-old municipal building late last year.

Pointing out that the city hall issue is not a forgotten item, Vincent said that the council and citizens committee had been making consistent effort to find new quarters and that a report may be filed at council's next meeting.

His statement followed receipt of a letter from Dr. R. T. Holzbach, city health commissioner, calling council's attention to the fact that insanitary plumbing in the city jail continued to exist.

Vincent said that the situation would be corrected if the jail's use continued, otherwise money would not be spent at this time.

"As it now seems," the health official's letter read, "the city hall will remain with us at least until after the duration of the present conflict. The board of health earnestly requests that city council take the necessary steps to render the city jail sufficiently sanitary for human occupancy."

"It is most difficult for the sanitary officer of this board to recommend to the people of Salem, and to enforce those recommendations, when such a glaring insanitary condition is permitted in the city hall itself."

Council approved the streets, alleys and sidewalk committee's recommendation that the service director contract for the repair of a sidewalk on N. Broadway, between Sugarbush alley and Second st., which was damaged when a water line was installed by the city.

The same committee reported that the city's scraper was busy smoothing the dirt streets in town and that the work is being done as rapidly as possible.

Council approved the claims committee's recommendation that the city pay a $25.31 claim filed by Vincent Judge of Perry st. for damages to his automobile which was hit by a fire truck accidentally.

YANKS AND BRITISH LAUDED BY MOSCOW

KUIBYSHCHEV, Russia, April 8.—The English-language newspaper Moscow News predicted a great offensive by the United States in an article today which praised Americans as "people who received statehood and won democratic rights not by sitting down but by standing up and fighting."

The newspaper also lauded the British for the recent heavy RAF bombings of occupied France and Germany, saying that "what Goebbels and his ilk fail to realize is that the more reverses a Britisher suffers the tougher he gets, as the Fascists will learn to their sorrow."

Shorter Dresses O.K.—They Can't Be Longer

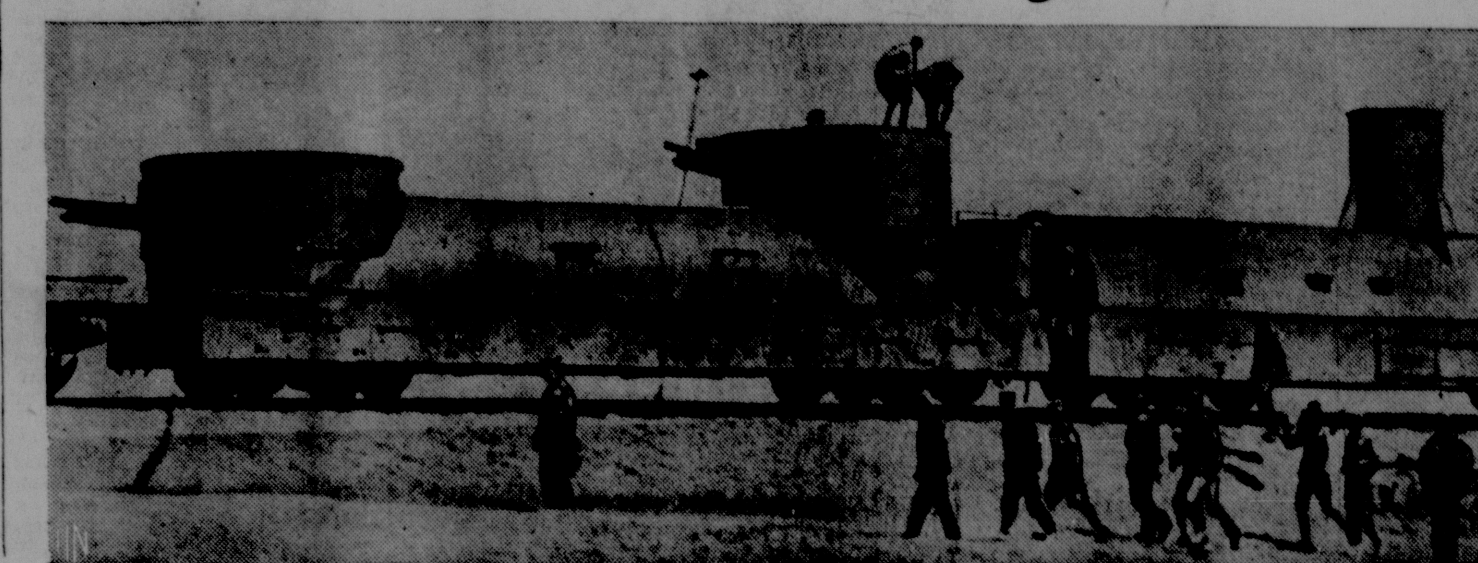

So Rules WPB, Turning Stylist, In Edict Which Virtually Freezes Present Modes

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 8.—The war production board, turning stern stylist for American women, decreed today that, for the duration of the war, dresses can be shorter and shorter, or tighter and tighter—as fashion dictates—but neither longer nor fuller than those now worn.

Or, milady's wardrobe can remain about the same, in cut and design, as it is at present. Emphasizing that it had no intention of "freezing" present styles, or rendering present wardrobe obsolete, WPB established a complete list of specifications covering future manufacture of women's clothes and ordered such frills as French cuffs on sleeves, balloon sleeves and patch pockets of wool eliminated entirely.

AFL-CIO HIT HARMONY NOTE

Green And Murray Pledge Support To Nation In War Effort

(By Associated Press) PITTSBURGH, April 8.—CIO President Philip Murray and AFL President William Green, rivals in peacetime but united in war, symbolized labor's unity last night by pledging their organized millions to "stand together" to help win the war and exhorting labor's critics to "join labor, not stab us in the back."

The two labor leaders met on a speakers platform—for the first time since labor ranks split in 1936—before a cheering audience of more than 4,000 workers at a joint AFL-CIO "Unit For Victory" rally.

The ruddy-faced Green, in thunderous overtones, and the thoughtful Murray called upon their followers to "produce, produce and produce" for victory. Then they each answered the "unthinking people" they charged with attacking labor and questioning labor's patriotism.

Both voiced their pledges of unity and answers to labor's critics in a nationwide radio broadcast. Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, joined them in the broadcast.

"My Dear Friend" Green referred to Murray as "my dear friend" and later as "my friend, my collaborator and fellow-American" in token, he said, of "this spirit of unity and collaboration" between the two labor organizations. Murray in turn expressed his "pride and personal gratification" to appear on the platform with Green and said their presence together "tells beyond words that we know this is labor's war."

"I come to you without reservation," Green said. "I am determined and willing to stand with President Murray and his associates."

Reiterating labor's determination to do its utmost to win the war, Murray said "we (AFL and CIO) propose to go down the long road hand in hand, working together toward attainment of our national objectives." He added:

"You CIO men in this hall, collaborate and cooperate with AFL unions in your community." Green gave the meeting an historical significance by saying:

"This is the first time since the slight difference within the family of labor that two men, clothed with the responsibility of millions, are standing together pleading the cause of solidarity. Accept our presence."

Huge Japanese Army Pounds At Bataan; U. S. And Filipino Soldiers Take New Positions

Estimate Army Of 110,000 To 135,000 Japs Are Hammering At Wainwright, Supported By Tanks, Artillery And Aerial Bombardment

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A general withdrawal of the American-Filipino forces in Bataan to new defensive positions because of Japanese penetration of their line was announced today by the war department.

The troops under Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright withdrew last night to "a previously prepared defensive position," a communication said, in order to rectify the penetrated line.

Officials said there was no immediate indication of the extent of the withdrawal. The Japanese, with greatly superior forces numerically, have been hammering constantly at the line since Saturday, supported by tanks, heavy artillery fire, and aerial bombardment.

A breakthrough had been expected by officials here since the major assault started five days ago. General Wainwright apparently had prepared a new line before the concentrated assaults of the enemy could convert the break into a disastrous rout.

The communication also confirmed previous dispatches from Manila reporting that seven American army heavy bombers carried out a successful raid April 3 on the harbor of Rangoon, Burma, damaging docks and port facilities and starting three large fires.

There was a chance that General Wainwright might stem the Japanese tide, military men said. But the invaders are known to have built up tremendous forces for an annihilation campaign.

This would be a two-weeks' drive, timed to end just before the rains begin.

Japs Have Full Army Japanese strength available for the Luzon campaign has been estimated at one full army at least. This would be from two to six infantry divisions including heavy artillery and other troops. The forces would number from 110,000 to 135,000 officers and men, far superior to the 10,000 American troops.

QUOTA CLUB VIEWS HOME FRONT MOVIE

An interesting talk on the organization of Ohio towns for action during air raids and a movie, "Ready on the Home Front" illustrating the work of home defense units, featured the meeting of Quota club last night at the Memorial building.

Carl Willman, manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone company, through which the film is released, explained the formation and activities of home defense groups. E. E. Englehart showed the film.

Miss Nellie Lewis, Red Cross nurse, was welcomed as a new member of the club. Approximately 36 members and guests enjoyed the program, which was arranged by Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, club program chairman, and Miss Ruth Hoch, who presented the speaker. Miss Irene Slutz, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Tables for the dinner which preceded the program were decorated with red tulips. The committee in charge included Miss Eva Simpson and Mrs. Rinie Wark.

Group singing was enjoyed, led by Miss Erma Ramseyer, chorister, with accompaniment by Miss Hoch.

The program for the April 21 meeting will be presented by the girls of the Butler Sew-Merrill 4-H club, of which Mrs. M. S. Sizis is advisor. The group was judged the most outstanding girls 4-H club in the county for their work this last year.

Prospective Recruits To Go Direct To Akron Examining Center

A draft call for a "medium size" group of soldier recruits was received today by the Salem draft board, scheduled for Tuesday, April 28.

Those involved in the new call will receive induction notices 10 days before leaving. The prospective soldiers this time will go to an examining center at Akron, where, if they pass, they will be sent on to join regular army training units.

Among those summoned in this call will be a number of 1-A men who previously held 1-B ratings and were deferred for minor physical defects such as faulty vision or teeth, draft board officials said.

The board, meanwhile, has completed the assignment of order numbers to the 20-to-44 year men who registered in February. Questionnaires are to be sent out in the near future.

Handy Can Opener May Be Headed For Comeback—O.P.A.

COLUMBUS, April 8.—That household "necessity," the can opener, somewhat in disuse because of high prices on certain canned goods, may be headed for a comeback.

Charles W. Hauck of Ohio State university, after six months with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, expressed belief today that lower permanent ceilings would be established by April 30 on numerous canned fruits and vegetables.

A total of 15 canned vegetables and 11 canned fruits, including tomatoes, corn, sauerkraut, peaches and cherries, came under a temporary 60-day freezing order effective March 2. It forbade retailers to sell the items at prices higher than those prevailing Feb. 23-27.

Hauck, who has headed the marketing office in the university's department of rural economics since 1927, was loaned to OPA to aid its studies on food prices with a view to establishing controls and insuring the nation a healthful diet at "reasonable" cost.

Hauck said he was convinced that price ceilings would be fixed on a variety of fresh fruits and vegetables before 1942 harvests. He speculated that the action might be directed first at potatoes and onions. He described present onion prices as "higher than a cat's back."

The ceilings also may include, he said, those vegetables grown under glass and regarded as essential to a varied diet. He explained that such an order would be of particular interest in Ohio because this state has more acres under glass than any other.

NEW MIDDLE EAST CAMPAIGN LOOMS

Violent Axis Assaults Are Recorded In Mediterranean Area

(By Associated Press) LONDON, April 8.—The purpose of United States forces in Europe is to expand," General George C. Marshall, chief of the U. S. army, declared tonight.

Harry Hopkins, lend-lease expediter who came to London with Marshall, seconded the general's thought, saying that production alone is not going to win the war but that "soldiers under General Marshall and sailors under Admiral King" would be the deciding factor.

Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States army, arrived in London today on the heels of British reports that the bulk of the American army was training for a mass invasion of continental Europe.

Gen. Marshall was accompanied by Harry Hopkins, chairman of the British-American munitions assignments board, and by senior military advisers.

London newspapers yesterday declared American and British expeditionary forces eventually would strike together at the heart of industrial Germany through France.

EVERYBODY THINKS SO

Most readers don't think about this, but editorials are written by individuals. The individuals, of course, have the standard assortment of individual ideas. Here is one of those ideas, submitted in the belief that everybody thinks so and the powers that be in Washington should be doing something about it.

This war is being run too much like a wake and not enough like a christening. There is too much talk about difficulties and not enough talk about successes. "Oh for pity's sake!" needs to be as common in favor of "Come on, let's give 'em the other barrel!"

Twenty-four hours a day, day in and day out, there's a sound of creaking machinery being put into motion to the accompaniment of squawks and wails because it either wasn't put into motion before, or because now that it's in motion it isn't running faster. There needs to be more cheering going on about the fact that things are moving a whole lot faster than anybody dared to think they would be moving by this time—and that the American juggernaut is only just beginning to roll.

In fact, what this country needs is some more parades, some more slogans and some more confidence. Americans are tired of raising goose pimples over dolorous speculations about what Hitler is going to do next. They think that what Hitler and Hirohito and all the other throat-grabbers are going to do next is realize they underestimated the United States and are going to get it in the neck.

This might be called whistling in the dark. That's what the dyspeptics and the Japanazi propagandists would call it, and it's their business to give the dyspeptics the dope most likely to sour their already tender tummies. But of course it's not whistling in the dark. It's nothing but the thing any normal human being wants to do when there's a big job to do. He wants to tackle it in the right frame of mind.

Goose pimples aren't the right frame of mind for the job of putting the flit on the rodents that have ganged up to put human beings in cages and the rats on the outside. The right frame of mind is a clenched fist. That's what Americans are thinking, and then government can help them along. Certainly the task is going to be tough. To be sure, things aren't going as smoothly as they might go. There's no question about the danger entailed. The other side might win; that's always a possibility in war. But it doesn't help any to keep harping on it.

Americans didn't want war; they made no bones about it when they were preaching peace and they're making no bones about it now that they're getting into condition to fight. They do feel—and this is still an individual opinion being stretched into a generalization—that since they must fight they'd prefer to fight with a flourish. And that's where the government comes in.

One of its big men, Donald Nelson, showed the way a few days ago by making an optimistic report on production. It was a report that confirmed what millions of Americans know from personal observation: That this country is barreling out war material at a prodigious and constantly increasing rate. For a change, it was mighty nice to hear that somebody in Washington is thinking about something besides how to avert inflation, or shift the blame to somebody else for not planning rubber trees, or keep the dear, dear people from knowing what the enemy already knows.

It's a frame of mind more than anything else. One man's guess is that if President Roosevelt would jot down on a pad some morning, "I suggest that every government spokesman begin thinking and talking about victory with a capital V"—and make sure that everybody got a copy, the war effort would spruce up 50 percent inside of two weeks. This country is tired of singing and listening to the blues. It's in a fight and intends to make the most of it. The American way of fighting never yet has called for spoiling the fun by brooding over the thing blow by blow.

WHILE THE sidereal operation... show much activity in mundane affairs with the intellectual, artistic and professional talents and urges under splendid stimuli, yet there is also sign of powerful opposition to the attainment of the noblest aims and ambitions. This might come from a public, collective or organized group, and wounded feelings of pride may be the result. However, mentality and initiative should be under such splendid and practical spur that real loss or lasting frustration might be nil. All might be surprisingly swerved to success by perseverance, determination and enterprise.

Those whose birthday it is may find splendid opportunity for exercising and organizing their talents for intellectual, artistic, professional or commercial pursuits, albeit through the defeat of powerful opposition from either public, community or fraternal groups. The hurt pride and feelings may challenge the effort to high achievements by sheer will power, resolution and positive initiative or energy. Surprising support may come then to the rescue on show of such determination.

A child born on this day should have many talents and abilities of an intellectual, creative, artistic or business quality, with the energy, determination and initiative to vanquish definite antagonism probably of public or organized groups.

BRITAIN AND INDIA'S PRINCES

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Wide World War Analyst

The crisis revolving about Britain's offer of dominion status, which involves Hindustan's support of the war effort, has developed another difficulty—the Nationalist insistence on democratization of the states under the native princes.

If you were looking for examples of the antithesis of democracy you would find it among these bejeweled potentates whose wealth is so great that some of them don't know just how rich they are. This isn't, however, true of all of them (there are close to 600 princes and chiefs.)

There are the two kinds of rulers. One is represented by the young maharajah whom I encountered in India—a wastrel who used to get enthusiastic on champagne and chase jackals across country in a Rolls Royce.

The other is magnificently represented by such men as the late Gaekwar of Baroda, who was widely known in this country. He was wholly wrapped up in the welfare of his people, and created a model state. Now comes along Pandit Nehru, powerful political leader of the All-India congress, and declares opposition to any plan for Hindustan which excludes the peoples of the states under the princes. Mr. Nehru would have all the states ruled by a people's government, within structure of federal India.

If you and I were proud Indian princes, possessed of riches and prerogatives which had come down to us through the centuries, how would we feel about being deprived of them?

We can understand the feeling of the maharajah. He just doesn't care for the idea of constitutional government and the cutting off of his power and revenues.

The majority of the princes dislike the idea so much that they assuredly will resist it strongly. Just what form that resistance will take, or how far it will go, is problematical. It could be very great if the rulers stood together, for many of them maintain small standing armies.

The British government apparently expects the princes to play a useful part in connection with any government for British India. There has been no indication that London intended to deprive them of their rule.

It's difficult to see how the British-Indian deadlock could be broken if the Nationalists insisted on bringing the native states into the proposed set-up. However, the general position was reported this morning from New Delhi as not without hope.

ALLERGY is as it is almost unnecessary to define nowadays, a state of hypersensitiveness which some individuals have to certain foods, dust, animal odors, plant pollens and various other substances. When these individuals come in contact with one of these substances, this hypersensitiveness causes symptoms in various parts of the body.

Dr. Clendenen will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Hay fever, asthma and hives, to name the commonest forms of allergy, are conditions of this type. Why some people have this hypersensitiveness and others do not is unknown, although it is quite definitely of an hereditary character. Allergy may appear in persons in childhood or in later life. I have known of two sisters, one was afflicted with hay fever in childhood while the other was perfectly free from it until about the age of thirty when she too developed hay fever.

In children allergy takes several forms: they may have hay fever or asthma. They are particularly likely to have a peculiar reaction of the mucous membrane of the nose which becomes swollen and boggy and causes a running drainage and a chronic cold.

Disturbances of Stomach Another form of allergy in children attacks the digestive system and there may be attacks of disturbance of the stomach with cramp, a chronic gaseous distension and diarrhoea followed by constipation.

One type of digestive disturbance due to allergy in children is cyclic vomiting. This comes on in attacks beginning in the prodromal period with loss of appetite, listlessness and irritability, languor and a little fever and then later, a pain in the pit of the stomach, gastric disturbance and finally the vomiting which lasts from twenty-four to forty-eight hours, followed by severe prostration. This does not occur in adults and the patient eventually wears it out. The average age of these patients is seven and one-half years and the symptoms appear periodically for three to four years. Sometimes they also have asthma and hives and other skin eruptions.

Another form of allergy which affects children almost exclusively is infantile eczema. These poor little tots about the age of one year begin to have raw, scaly, itchy areas on the face and hands which constitute a very distressing condition. No one can blame the baby for being irritable and touchy and unresponsive.

Both cyclic vomiting and eczema in children are probably due to food allergy, although it tries the patience of the parents and the doctor and all the relatives to find out exactly what food causes the attacks. It is usually a combination of some of the most necessary nutritional articles, such as eggs, milk, bread, etc., and somehow or other these children with eczema always wear it out. I have never seen it persist beyond six or seven years.

To treat a child with this condition requires a great deal of patience in getting a good history and finding out what particular substance is responsible for the condition. Sometimes the allergens can be avoided or eliminated. It may be that the child has a pet cat or a rabbit which is the cause, or sometimes the stuffing of his pillow may be the cause of his complaint. Other allergens are not so easily avoided, such as the pollens of trees, grasses, weeds, house dust and foods that are necessary for nutrition.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

L. H.: "What do you take extract of witch hazel for?"

Answer: Witch hazel is a long outmoded counter irritant that has been used for rubbing on sprains and sore places. I do not know of any use for it, taken internally.

W. M.: "What are the symptoms of angina pectoris? Can a person gain weight who has it? Can a person continue at his regular employment?"

Answer: Angina pectoris is due to a spasm of the coronary artery of the heart. It is usually associated with high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries elsewhere in the body. It is possible to gain weight while having angina. Whether or not the patient can continue with his regular employment depends on how severe the work is. People with angina should not do heavy work or anything which causes a great deal of exertion.

M. C.: "Will you please explain the meaning of spondylitis deformans?"

Answer: Spondylitis deformans is a chronic arthritis of the spine which causes round shoulders and sometimes other forms of curvature of the spine.

MATA HARI'S Daughter

By MAURICE DEKOBRA and LEYLA GEORGIE

SYNOPSIS
Fifth Column blitzkrieg is set in England led by a serious Ajax who officially and seriously is considered more menacing than Stuka bombers to the defense of the realm. The confessed son of Mara, ace English spy, and by the sensational murder of Hugh Kenley, have put Sir Sanderson, British Intelligence chief, in a desperate quandary. John's ward, beautiful Brinda, had given a lift in her car to a humping stranger whom she took for an Englishman. But he was a Nazi parachutist and when Brinda's car, he shot. Brinda meets Lieut. Rich, a former beau, when she is looking through photos in Intelligence Office's "rogues' gallery." He has just told her that engagement to Gladys, daughter of Lord and Lady Mountwyn, is to be announced that evening. Gladys had none too pleasant memories of glittering Gladys as a mate. But Sir John and his go to the Mountwyn party, where Gladys is proudly showing the rapier-like Russian, Prince Vassil, whom she has just ordered to come along.

CHAPTER EIGHT
With a gesture that was half a nod and half a deprecatory shrug, Sir John obeyed Gladys. Brinda and Brinda were left with the other.
What were you doing a moment ago?" asked Brinda.
"I?" He smiled vaguely. "Oh! I'm counting the people. Before you and Colonel Sanderson came, there were one hundred and nine. You and one hundred eleven—the other and his wife make one hundred and thirteen."
"Don't you ever think of anything but things—well, like that?" Indeed I do," said Dick Malden, who was anything else but thinking about. Just at this moment, for instance, I'm thinking you're even lovelier now than I were this morning."
Perhaps you'd just better go on counting the guests."
No, it doesn't interest me any more. By the way, did you find the two you were looking for in the ellipsis files?"
Not a trace, I'm sorry to confess. And you... did you find your oratory safe?"
Utterly. It was a perfectly loyal short-circuit. But that's what it is—after being almost blown up, one becomes suspicious. I expect to find a spy or the Columnist under every rug."
They really aren't that thick?"
Thick enough. Frankly, I didn't care for your guardian's. He's inherited too much of the blindness of his predecessors."
That's serious for England, isn't it?"
"It is," said the young lieutenant gravely. "But I suppose I'll muddle through somehow... I always have. Personally, I've never reached the jittery stage where I suspect all foreigners."
"Just who is this Prince Vassil?" asked Brinda.
Following her thought, Malden tilted. "No need to worry about Vassil. He's above suspicion. Kin royalty and all that sort of thing... He's a nephew of the Duke, you know—really in

PLANT PENALIZED ON PRIORITY RULE

CANTON, April 8.—H. W. Hoover, president of the Hoover Co., the nation's third largest producer of vacuum cleaners, expressed surprise today at a War Production Board order forbidding his firm to deal in aluminum for three months.

The board's announcement charged that the company improperly diverted about 500,000 pounds of secondary aluminum "from the requirements of the war program."

"I am very much surprised at the findings of the board," Hoover said, adding that he would issue a formal statement later.

Another company spokesman asserted that the firm was working at least 83 per cent on war orders. He said that for 25 years the company has been reprocessing some of its own aluminum scrap, a procedure which most factories do under a toll arrangement with other metal concerns.

He added that a recent hearing in Washington the company was informed it was not affected by WPB orders concerning the reprocessing of aluminum under toll arrangements.

The WPB order requires the company to cease all manufacturing operations calling for the use of aluminum at the end of a 10-day grace period.

The company has a normal annual output of more than 200,000 units, but under the recent vacuum cleaner stoppage order would have been required to end civilian production April 30. The suspension forbids the firm to accept or deliver any form of aluminum for three months and enjoins it from entering into any contracts for purchase or delivery of the metal for any purpose.

PAYROLL SAVINGS PLAN IS DISCUSSED

Salem employers and other members of the Defense bond committee in Salem attended a meeting at the Memorial building last night when Theodore Wagner of Cleveland, director of the payroll savings plan for the Defense Savings bonds and stamps staff of Ohio, had charge of a discussion period.

L. H. Colley, general chairman of the Salem committee, presided. Wagner answered a number of questions concerning the payroll allotment plan for the purchase of the stamps and bonds. A large number of local companies and business establishments already have adopted the plan where workers contribute a portion of their regular earnings for the purchases of the bonds which are helping to finance the United States army and navy to ultimate victories.

NEW CLOTHES MAKE WOMAN FEEL "SO RIGHT"

At the present moment, when almost every woman in America is a career woman, working in some way to win the war, to say she looks "chic" isn't much of a compliment. She wants to look "so right." This is the opinion of the noted designer, Mainbocher, who designed his collection with this in mind. The three pictures shown above are from his collection. The daytime dress, left, is a key print ensemble—white on a black ground. It features the new invisible wraparound skirt fastened with bows at the side, and deep carnation corsage. With it is worn a sleeveless cardigan jacket of the same material. The printed evening dress is black chiffon splashed with large and brilliant wild flowers. The neck is high and the dress has short sleeves. The winged train may be draped around the shoulders as a scarf. Right is a dinner dress of black lace falling softly over a column slim slip. It is draped to one side and caught with two bunches of buttercups. The removable cape is worn thrown back from the shoulder.

CHICAGOANS HELD IN ABDUCTION-RAPE

CINCINNATI, April 8—Two Chicago youths, registered as George Shimchuk, 23, and Joseph Delatore Hepburn, 22, were held on federal warrants charging violation of the "Lindbergh kidnap law" today in the abduction-rape of Mrs. Mary Jacobson 33, of Calumet City, Ill., the night of March 30.

Raymond C. Suran, special agent in charge of the FBI office here, said the pair confessed forcing Mrs. Jacobson to accompany them 300 miles to this city, robbing her and leaving her bound and gagged in a suburban park after one attack.

The statute under which the two were charged makes possible the death penalty.

APRIL GRAND JURY RETURNS SIX BILLS

Regular New Jail Recommendation In County Is Voiced

LISBON, April 8.—Recommending that immediate steps be taken to secure a new jail in Columbiana county the April term grand jury late Tuesday completed a two-day session with its report to Judge Joel H. Sharp, following an inspection trip to Youngstown regarding conditions in the Mahoning county jail where this county's prisoners are boarded.

The report stressed the inconvenience of housing prisoners in the adjoining county, and revealed that the sheriff of Mahoning county must feed the prisoners for 36 cents a day, whereas in Columbiana county's contract with the commissioners of that county lists 60 cents a day for the keep of the prisoners.

In recommending a new jail the jurors stated it should be comparable in size to the requirements of the county, and should not be elaborate nor excessive in cost.

A report of the investigations of the body revealed 21 witnesses were examined in 20 cases, six true bills were returned, 11 cases ignored, two referred to probate court and one continued.

Foremost among the indictments was a charge of larceny against Claude Sanders of Columbiana in connection with the theft of iron from the Columbiana Foundry Co. plant.

Kenneth Hoyt of East Liverpool was indicted for the theft of an automobile belonging to J. A. Sowers, while Wells Conkle of that city was indicted for receiving and concealing stolen property, including parts removed from the Sowers car.

William Fuller and George Richards of Lisbon were jointly indicted for breaking and entering in connection with the theft of chickens from the farm of Karl Paulin in Wayne township.

Lawrence Estill of Lisbon, recently returned to the Mansfield reformatory as a parole violator, was indicted in connection with the theft of a small sum of money from the apartment of Bert Wallace on E. Lincoln way here.

RELIEF FOR APRIL REVEALS DECREASE

While Knox and Butler townships continue free of relief cases, Washington, St. Clair and Center townships top the list with loads of 103, 86 and 88 persons respectively, while others range down to West and Franklin townships with five and seven persons, respectively, receiving relief.

EIGHT AAU CHAMPS READY SELVES FOR FINALS IN BOSTON

Two Boxers Repeat Wins Of Last Year; Others Newly Crowned

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, April 3.—Eight young Ohioans—newly crowned Ohio A. A. U. boxing champions—looked forward today to possible new laurels as members of the Buckeye team at Boston's national A. A. U. contests next week.

Victors in last night's state finals, the 1942 titlists in the respective weight classes are:

Heavyweight—Dick Letts of Wilberforce, who defeated Bill Benson of Chillicothe in the final go.

175 pounds—James Brown of Cincinnati, winner over Kenneth Johnson of Dayton.

160 pounds—Walter Jones of Cincinnati, who defeated Bud Hershey of Columbus.

147 pounds—Tom Bell of Wilberforce, who knocked out Ray Dorley of Lima in the first round.

135 pounds—Charles Scott of Cincinnati, who won a decision over Victor Byrd of Dayton.

126 pounds—James Yee of Cincinnati, who defeated Ray Lewis of Dayton.

118 pounds—Tony Cammiliti of Columbus, who outboxed Arthur Edmondson of Cincinnati.

112 pounds—Will Marshall of Columbus, winner over Roy Roberts of Cincinnati.

Cammiliti and Marshall won Ohio A. A. U. titles last year. Scott is the champion of Kentucky.

Semi-final results last night included:

Marshall knocked out Gerald Boughan of Lima in the first round.

Brown won from Shad Bell of Wilberforce by a decision.

Scott out-pointed Charley Justice of Columbus.

Roberts knocked out Bob Benbow of Columbus in the first round.

Byrd defeated Charles Gwynn of Columbus.

Dorley won a decision from Myron McChristian of Cincinnati.

John defeated Charles Hodges of Columbus.

In the final heavyweight contest, Letts unleashed a punishing body attack to take an early advantage over the Chillicothe battler. Bell sent a right to Dorley's jaw to capture the 147-pound honors.

Lewis was Yee's only opponent last night, but the Dayton mite gave the Chinese law a nip-and-tuck encounter. Some spectators expressed a belief Lewis merited the decision.

Dayton's Melvin Pullen was not permitted to participate last night because of deep cuts over both eyes he suffered in Monday's bouts.

The Eagles dropped a pair to their closest rivals, City Loan, last night on the Masonic alleys but still retained a top-sided lead over the other teams in the National League. Bill Finley led the attack with a 235 in the first game. Louis DeCraw and Gregg contributed a pair of 200 games each. In the only other match rolled in the league last night, the Salem China took two from the National Sanitary.

In other matches, the Standards took two from the Stores. Production topped a like number from the Tool & Die, and the Wringers took three from Tryouts.

The league leading Finishes laid idle last night while the Mullins league wound up its schedule but still won the race by several games. The third place Costa ran afoul of the Cabinets and lost two as Charley Huffer fired 213 and 202 for the winners. The Inspectors finished up with a three-game conquest of the Tums although Crookston had games of 202 and 212 for the Tubs. The Enamels shut out the Cutting Room as Lopenam led the attack with a 568 series.

SCRIBE SELECTS 12 HORSES TO GALLOP IN DERBY CLASSIC

Turf Expert First To Go Out On Limb; Picks Alsab To Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—With the 68th running of the Kentucky Derby less than four weeks away, experts have begun to check workouts, feedbox information, reliable sources and other data in an effort to pick the select group which will parade to the post at Churchill Downs May 2.

One of the first to climb out on a limb was "Buck" Weaver, Louisville Times expert, who not only would limit the field to 12 colts but also attempted to name them.

It is generally conceded the starters will be limited to 10 or 12, but the next question is which 10 or 12 from the list of 19 nominations will gallop for gold and glory come Derby day.

As 12 most likely starters Weaver chose Alsab, Requested, Sun Again, Bless Me, Devil Diver, Apache, Bright Willie, With Regards, obdurate, Boot and Spur and Valinda Orphan.

Then he picked a second choice dozen as possible starters—American Wolf, First Fiddle, Soldiers Song Jug, Gallant Laddie, More Than Few, Clearmont, Hollywood, Patriot, Fair Call, Jean Ferrante and Ramblers.

Alsab, although still an enigma, is rated in Weaver book as the horse to beat along with Requested, his Flamingo conqueror.

The veteran turf writer said he based his selections on "news gathered from various action fronts, to say nothing of workouts and feedbox information."

Weaver, who has watched Derby winners come and go for years, feels certain the starters will not exceed 12.

While he limits himself to picking possible starters, some railbirds are ready to name them one-two-three, but no two may agree there. Meanwhile, stalls at the Downs are crowded with Derby hopefuls and railbirds are swarming the track for firsthand information on favorites. Others are quartered at Keeneland, preparing for the country's most glamorous racing event.

SPORT CHATTER

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Lieut. Ulmon "Clemo" Clements of Camp Bowie, Tex., who used to coach such noted athletes as Baylor's Jack Wilson, Kyle Gillespie and Emory Nix in their junior college days, suggests an army athletic program leading up to the formation of a service conference. In Texas, he would take in Camps Bowie and Berkeley, Randolph field, Shepherd field, Fort Sam Houston, Fort Bliss, etc. But why stop there? How about a lot of leagues like that and playoffs among the winners until a service champion could be nominated to play the best college team in the Rose Bowl?

Main objection, of course, is that the program would require a lot of organizing and the army and navy are busy organizing something more important.

One of the guys who has to sleep in an upper berth on the Chicago White Sox eastward trek is Johnny Rigney, whose mother-in-law owns the club. Tommy Rotolo, the Rome, N. Y., featherweight who scored a "grand slam" by winning the diamond belt and golden glove amateur titles, has signed up to do his fighting for case company. Rumors that this will be Branch Rickey's last season with the Cardinals keeps popping up. This time it's from Rochester, where they claim Billy Southworth tipped his hand by shipping some players to the Red Wings while Rickey was saying no shifts were in sight.

Legion Boosts Alliance Defense Fund By $1,000
ALLIANCE, April 3.—The Alliance Council of Civilian Defense, working along thus far on a $500 appropriation from city council, today received an additional $1,000 with which to begin equipping the 3,000 or more men and women now training for emergency duty.

The $1,000 was voted by the Charles C. Weybrecht post of the American Legion out of the funds raised in the collection and sale of scrap iron.

Helmet, gas masks and other essential equipment are to be purchased for air wardens. Other home defense units will be equipped from funds to be raised by popular subscription.

SAN JUAN.—In honor of the latest U. S. hero, the San Juan Board of Commissioners has voted to change the name of one of the city's main thoroughfares from Calle Tetuan to "General MacArthur Street." The board also decided to make an as yet undetermined date "MacArthur Day," a school holiday.

PORT LEWIS, Wash.—Private Charles (Iron Pan) Snider, an Idaho recruit and former circus performer, entertains his buddies by shaving with a blow torch, eating tid-bits of broken glass, nails, tacks and other "iron rations."

Bits of Sport

LEXINGTON, Ky.—After watching the feeble efforts of his Boston Red Sox against the Cincinnati Reds yesterday at Louisville, Manager Joe Cronin sent all his players to the famous bat factory for new supplies. They will use them this afternoon against the same Reds.

The hibernating batting power of the Cincinnati Reds awakened yesterday and they battered out an 11 to 2 verdict over the Boston Red Sox. Buckey Walters was in mid-season form, allowing the soxers only two runs on their nine hits.

WICHITA, Kas.—The New York Giants set some kind of a record yesterday. They traveled 600 miles from Greenville, Miss., to Oklahoma City to meet the Cleveland Indians, only to have the game cancelled because of weather conditions.

BALTIMORE.—The New York Yankees, famous for their hitting, aren't bad at fielding either. The Rizzuto-Gordon combination at second last year helped set a double play record and this spring 39 double killings have been perpetrated in 29 contests.

CINCINNATI, April 3.—Freshmen at the University of Cincinnati may play varsity football. The university directors yesterday rescinded a longstanding rule barring them from intercollegiate athletic competition.

TIFFIN, April 3.—Charles LeCron, president of the Tiffin club of the defunct Ohio State baseball league, has invited six teams to join a new semi-professional league. Players would be compensated by a percentage of the gate receipts. The invitations went to Fremont, Fostoria, Findlay, Marion, Sandusky and Bucyrus.

BOWLING GREEN, April 3.—President F. J. Prout of Bowling Green University announced today that three officials lost by the school's physical education department in the last month would not be replaced immediately.

Athletic director Harry Ockerman was granted an 18-month leave of absence yesterday to become safety and sanitary engineer at an Indiana ordnance plant. He was head football coach from 1935 to 1941.

Basketball Coach Paul Landis resigned March 1 to head the physical education division of the state department of education, and swimming coach M. Budd Cox resigned two weeks ago to become a naval physical education instructor.

SAN JOSE, Calif.—If boxing coaches had their way every high school and college boy would be trained in the art of fistcluffs.

Urging it as an asset to the physical fitness program, the National Association of Boxing Coaches offered their services to the schools in setting up mass boxing programs.

GREAT LAKES, Ill.—A Bob Doerr, groundskeeper for the Chicago Cubs, has been recruited by Great Lakes naval training station for a few days to get the diamond in shape for Mickey Cochrane's baseball team. Doerr says the Great Lakes boys will have a big league playing field for their schedule of games against major and minor league teams.

CHICAGO.—Major tournaments on this summer's program of the Women's Western Golf association will consist only of the Western open, June 22-27 at Chicago's Elmhurst Country club and the Western amateur, Aug. 16-18 at Chicago's Sunset Ridge Country club.

The amateur was transferred from its originally-scheduled site, El Paso, Texas, because war-time conditions put a restriction on the amount of travel by top-flight golfers.

At the same time the Western junior open, listed for July 14-17 at St. Paul, Minn., and the Derby, planned for Aug. 10-13 at Chicago, were called off.

The Lucky Hat
ALLEGHENY, N. Y.—Charles A. Shafer retained his village board seat in the same way he first won it—by a boy drawing his name from a hat.

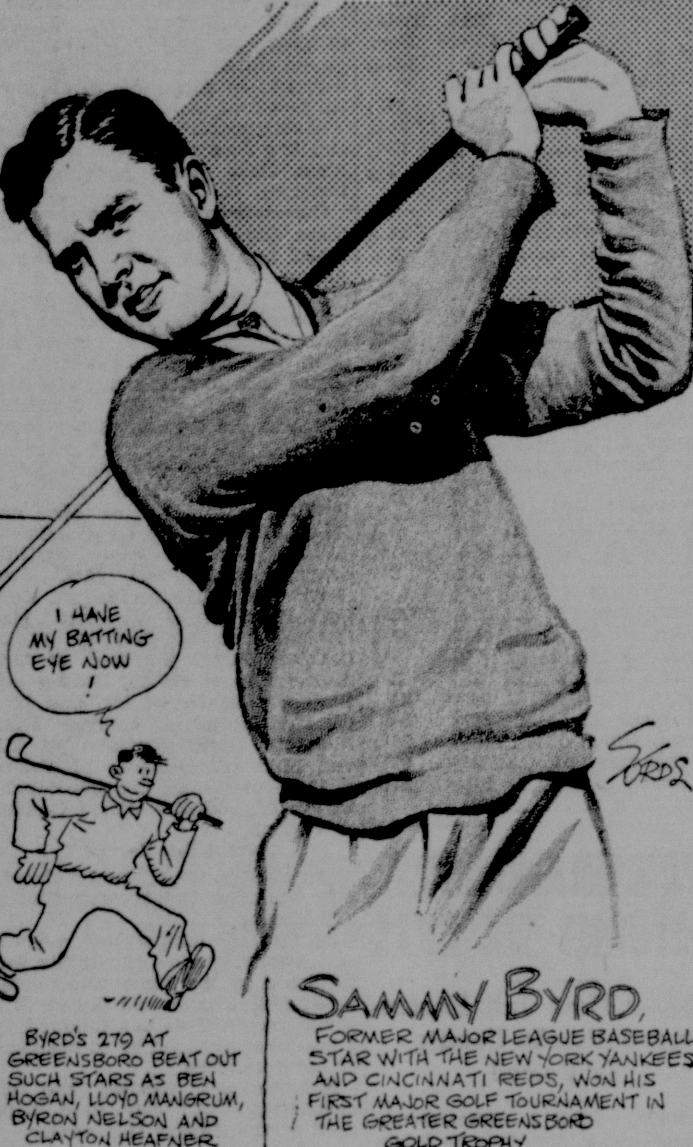

Shafer and his opponent, George Kahn, each received 95 votes in a village election March 17. Officials resorted to the boy and hat to break the tie.

In 1938, Shafer tied the incumbent candidate, then won on the draw.

Tire Situation To Cut Ohio Athletics

COLUMBUS, April 3.—Ohio's far-flung high school athletic program suffered a setback today under a federal tire rationing ruling restricting use of school busses to the transporting of students to and from classes.

Edward Smith, former Ohio State athletic star and state tire rationing coordinator, said the federal ruling specifically prevented busses bearing tires issued under the rationing regulations from transporting athletes, if they do, they are violating the spirit of the conservation program, if not the letter of the regulations.

"We have no jurisdiction over busses using tires purchased before the rationing regulations became effective in December," Smith declared, "but we are trying to discourage those busses from transporting athletes. If they do, they are violating the spirit of the conservation program, if not the letter of the regulations."

H. R. Townsend, state high school athletic commissioner, said he expected the ruling to result in drastic modification of next fall's scholastic football program, and to cut deeply into the entry list of this spring's track meets.

ABC Alleys Glisten After Refinish Job
COLUMBUS, April 3.—Refinished alleys glistened today at the Ohio State fairgrounds coliseum, scene of the 42nd annual American Bowling Congress tournament.

As the 72-day meet passed the half-way mark the drives were shackled and "high boards" were placed down near the foul line. Booster quintets will roll on the lanes tonight.

There were no overnight changes among tournament leaders.

CRONIN TEAM SEEN AS RUNNERUP; A'S GIVEN CELLAR SLOT

Writers Select Indians And Chisox To Round Out First Division

NEW YORK, April 3.—The very best handicappers in the baseball business today tabbed the New York Yankees as a shoo-in for the American league pennant and the Boston Red Sox to nip the Chicago White Sox for Second.

And if the Yanks, by some chance or other, should miss grabbing their second straight junior circuit championship—their sixth in seven years—there will be an exceptional collection of red faces among the baseball writers as 73 of the 76 voting in the annual Associated Press poll couldn't see the Bronx Bombers anywhere but on top. Of the other three, two placed the Yanks second and the other third. The three top ballots the Yanks didn't get were split—two to the White Sox (by Gene Kessler, Chicago Times, and Dave Hoff, AP Chicago) and one to the Red Sox (Burt Whitman, Boston Herald).

On a basis of eight points for a first-place vote, seven for a second, six for a third, etc., the Yanks piled up 604 points—four spots less than perfection.

Runner-Up Spot Doubtful
A photo finish, on the other hand, was forecast for the runner-up spot, with the Red Sox getting the call, 488 to 482, despite the two first-place ballots for Jimmy Dykes' dandies. In predicting a duplicate of the 1941 pennant finish, the writers gave Boston 39 second place votes to 31 for the White Sox.

The field was well spread out behind the top three. The balloting generally followed the finish of last year's race. Cleveland and Detroit wound up in a fourth-place tie last year. This time, the Indians were picked for the spot with 341 points, and the Tigers polled 309 to head the second division.

The other 1941 tie—for sixth place—between St. Louis and Washington was broken in the voting, with the Browns named over the Senators, 238 to 155. Connie Mack's Athletics were tabbed for the cellar. Second place votes were split among six of the eight clubs, with only the Browns and the A's completely ignored. Detroit and Washington were the two outfits which seemed to have the experts stumped. They were picked anywhere from second to eighth.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill.—Fern Z. Rauch, secretary of the Central Trade and Labor Union, is one man who doesn't want a raise. When a proposal to increase his salary from $72 to $82 a month was put before the union, he asked that it be rejected. It was.

BRITISH TALKING OF SECOND FRONT

General Marshall, Harry Hopkins Reported In London

Malta Is Hit Hard
MALTA—Massed German bombers gave the British island stronghold its worst attack of the war yesterday and touched off the 2,000th alarm at the bomb-scarred Mediterranean base since June, 1940.

Four Nazi planes were reported destroyed and three others damaged. CRIMEA—Soviet dispatches said the Germans launched a heavy attack against Russian positions today, striking with 100 tanks, but were thrown back after several hours of fighting.

Other Soviet forces were credited with capturing a fortified German-held point on the Ukraine mainland front.

Improvement of road conditions in the area in which Adolf Hitler is expected to make his supreme bid for Caucasus oil—was indicated in reports of the combat.

Footing may already have firmed sufficiently after the spring thaws for the opening of large-scale operations.

The Russians said the Germans lost 32 tanks and hundreds of dead under the blasting of Red army shells on the Crimean battlefield.

Seven tanks were reported captured at the southwestern front village, from which the radio declared "the Germans retreated in disorder."

Nazis Lose 494 Planes

Nine-day totals of aerial warfare, as listed by the Soviet information bureau, stood through Monday at 494 German planes destroyed against 103 Russian aircraft lost.

Squadrons of RAF planes roared across the English channel early today, and vapor trails laced the sky off the French coast between Cap Gris Nez and Calais, indicating dog fights between them and German aircraft.

In the battle of the Atlantic, the German high command reported that 16 U-boats had, sunk 16 Allied merchant ships totalling 104,000 tons in recent attacks on American and British supply lines.

Thirteen were listed as sunk off the American coast, the remainder off Africa.

Official German quarters also asserted that six out of 10 British-chartered Norwegian ships which attempted to break out of the Swedish port of Goteborg had been sunk by German naval and air forces.

Two others were said to have fled back to Swedish territorial waters.

Two of the 10 apparently eluded the German blockade and reached Britain.

Taking Off for Attack on Jap-Held Wake Island

33 CONVICTED IN CEMETERY SALES

Glen Rest at Columbus and Glen Haven at Springfield.

Judge Nevin, commenting on "some intimation" that the trial had taken too much time told the defendants:

"There will be no further delay. I will consider a motion for a new trial in behalf of each of the defendants and at the same time you can regard the motions as overruled."

No Stay of Execution
"I want you all to come prepared Friday morning with the understanding that there will be no stay of execution. I've heard the cry 'too much time' too often. I think I've heard it for the last time."

Jury Foreman Floyd Cady of Newport, said 600 paylofts were taken in 44 hours of deliberation, the panel voting separately on each count against each defendant.

During the trial U. S. District Attorney Calvin Crawford of Dayton charged the company received $1,854,000 from investors on promises of 25 to 100 per cent returns. He said a total of $3,165,000 was promised investors but that they actually received $803,950.

A score of defense attorneys, headed by Lieut. Gov. Paul Herberich, sought to show that the sales agency, established in 1933, would have kept promises to investors if a receivership suit had not been filed against it in 1938.

Indictments were returned against 44 officers and salesmen in November, 1940. Since then four died, the case of one was continued because of illness, two pleaded no defense, one pleaded guilty and one was dismissed.

Among those found guilty is William L. Rucker of Salem.

Charities Board Meets
LISBON, April 8—The Columbian County Catholic Charities advisory board met last night in its headquarters, 123 W. Lincoln way, with Rev. Fr. Alfred J. Murphy of the Cleveland diocese as a guest.

He and Miss Jane Ward of Salem, executive secretary of the county group, gave reports of the National Catholic Charities meeting which they attended in Detroit.

Bell To Bullets

ST. LOUIS—A bronze bell taken by an American private from a Filipino stronghold after its capture during the 1899 insurrection may go back to the Philippines to help preserve their freedom.

The American private, now Col. Malcolm Elliott, chief of army engineers here, has donated the bell, weighing 30 pounds, to the scrap metal drive with the hope it will be converted into bullets.

Hurt In Collision
Robert Pollard, 37, of Canton, received a bruised left arm when his car was involved in an accident with another machine on Route 14, about a mile east of Salem, at 6:15 p. m. Tuesday.

State patrolmen said that the other car, driven by Francis C. Engdert, 26, of R. D. 5, Salem skidded into Pollard's machine.

INFIRMARY LOSES WPA ASSISTANCE

LISBON, April 8.—The assistance of WPA labor in caring for the county home hospital and dormitories will be abandoned May 1, County Commissioner John E. Smith stated today in releasing an announcement from district WPA offices.

"This shortage of help will be severely realized at the home," Smith stated today in releasing an announcement from district WPA offices.

"This shortage of help will be severely realized at the home," Smith stated, "as seven women have been assisting in the work there the past two months. However, I do not know what we can do about it, as we are operating on a greatly curtailed budget this year, and can not hire additional help."

It was also intimated, he said, that in a very short time all civil WPA projects will be closed in this county in favor of WPA assistance in defense set-ups.

WPA assistance in the Lisbon Youth Program has also been withdrawn, and six workers who have assisted in recreation activities the past three years, may be transferred to other work.

United States And Filipino Defenders Take New Positions

terior to the defenders' strength in arms and men.

The divisions would be attacking units, each having one tank company, 6,000 riflemen, 380 light machine-guns, 82 heavy machine-guns, 20 37-mm. guns, 17 70-mm. guns, 36 75-mm. guns, and twelve 105-mm. Howitzers.

C'ficers familiar with Japanese tactics say the normal attack would consist of frontal, direct pressure to hold the enemy while a column maneuvered to strike at a flank.

This is the phase of the fighting which apparently has been developing over the past four days. The late day communique of the war department described it thus:

"Superior enemy forces, supported by tanks and artillery, continue to attack the center of our line in Bataan. The Japanese have thrown fresh reserves into the fighting and have made some additional progress. Heavy losses have been sustained by our forces and by the enemy."

Japanese dive bombers are assisting in the attack, dropping bombs and machine-gunning our front-line soldiers."

The fact that one end of the American-Philippine line is on the China sea and the other on Manila bay makes a successful flank attack unusually difficult. The Japanese have tried untidely, and at heavy cost, to turn the Bataan flanks with waterborne troops, however, there is always the possibility that they might eventually drive a strong column through one of the flanks and then attempt to roll it up. Military experts consider such a drive a dangerous gamble.

WOULD CLEAR FIELD FOR JOHN M'SWEENEY

Lamneck Asks That All Other Governor Candidates Step Aside

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 8.—Probate Judge J. H. Lamneck of Tuscarawas county, a potential Democratic gubernatorial candidate, today suggested that all candidates step aside and give a clear field to former Congressman John M'Sweeney of Wooster.

Lamneck in a letter to M'Sweeney said he would forego entering the contest if M'Sweeney is a candidate, adding he was suggesting to all other declared candidates they do likewise.

Others are State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, Clarence H. Knisley, member of the state industrial commission, and Atty Frank A. Dye of Columbus.

National Committeeman Charles Sawyer announced yesterday he will not be a candidate.

Lamneck said he was making the appeal in the interest of party harmony. He said Democrats have lost the governorship in recent campaigns because they were not united.

Should M'Sweeney not be a candidate, Lamneck said he was reserving "announcement of my intentions."

Lamneck listed 16 proposals for the Democratic campaign. They included co-operation with the federal government in the war effort and abolition of the state liquor control department, substituting existing county authority for controlling the liquor traffic.

County Commissioner James Reynolds of Cuyahoga county, a leader in Democratic state politics, yesterday said he favored M'Sweeney for the gubernatorial nomination.
